PARADES

10-8. General

a. The term parade had various meanings to Continental Army troops camped at Valley Forge. It could mean to form, march, and drill. Present day parade procedures originated from the daily activities conducted then to form, organize, instruct, and issue parole and countersign words to the various guards on duty (outpost, picket, camp, and quarters). Early parades also enabled commanders to give special instructions to subordinate leaders and to make command announcements. In the US Army Regulations of 1863, reviews were a type of parade, and "dress parades" were conducted daily, except on extraordinary and urgent occasions. The parade remains basically the same as the review except that it has retained its original intent—a method whereby unit commanders could inspect troops, present awards, and issue information. The sequence of a parade has the following steps--formation of troops, sound off by a band, honors to the nation, presentation, manual of arms, report, orders published, officers center, pass in review.

b. Battalion and regiment parades are opened by adjutant's call sounded on a trumpet. This call has opened parades of the American forces for over 150 years. After some preliminaries, the adjutant directs SOUND OFF and the band plays three chords. Having sounded off, the band marches in front of the troops and then countermarches to its original position. This march across the front of the line is said to have originated with the Crusades (A.D. 1095 to 1260). The troops offering themselves for holy service were drawn up in a long formation and the band countermarched only before those chosen to serve. In American ceremonies, the sound off has been handed down as a ceremonial tradition.

c. After the band sounds off, the commanding officer may, if he wishes, give the troops some facings or movements of the manual of arms. This was the traditional way in which he established control over his command, and it has been practiced in the United States since the revolutionary war.

d. Parades in the revolutionary army were usually held at "Troops" or about 8 o'clock in the morning and was the time used for sergeants to call the roll and report it to the adjutant.

e. After the sergeants had returned to their posts, the commander directed that necessary orders and information be reported. After the adjutant had read the orders, he announced "Parade is dismissed." At that time, officers moved to a position centered on the commanding officer. As the commander gave specific instructions to the officers, the first sergeants would march their units back to their respective company areas where they would be dismissed.

10-9. Preparation

The appearance and movement of troops in formation are the primary characteristics of a parade. The preparation and organization of troops for a parade are similar to that for a review. In a parade, since the commander of troops is also the reviewing officer, the distance between the troops and the commander is greater than that for a review. Other differences are that the band conducts sound off, the inspection is omitted, a report is rendered, orders are published, and officers and guidons are marched forward and centered on the commander. If retreat is scheduled, honors to the nation are conducted concurrently with retreat.

10-10. Ceremonial Battalion Parade

a. Formation of Troops.

(1) Units are moved to their positions on the ready line in the most convenient manner. The commander prescribes the routes, sequence, and time of arrival on the ready line. He and his staff take their posts prior to adjutant's call.

(2) The procedure for moving from the ready line to the final line is the same as for a review.

b. Sound Off.

(1) After the battalion has been formed, aligned, and given parade rest on the final line, the adjutant directs SOUND OFF and assumes the position of parade rest. He remains facing the formation.

(2) At the directive sound off, the band plays three sound off chords. At the conclusion of the third chord, the band moves forward playing a march in quick time. The band executes a left turn to march across the front of the troops. At the left of the line of troops, the band countermarches and returns over the same ground to the right of the line. After the band has passed beyond the right of the troops, it executes a right turn, countermarches again, and halts in its original position. When the band has halted, it will cease playing at the next convenient place in the music and will again play the three sound off chords. (Trooping the line by the band may be eliminated when ceremonies are conducted indoors during inclement weather and space is limited).

NOTE: Retreat, when scheduled, is integrated at this point. Upon completion of the sound off chords, the band pauses briefly and then plays retreat (by the trumpet section) without a command from the adjutant. Upon completion of retreat, the adjutant comes to attention and directs BRING YOUR UNITS TO ATTENTION AND PRESENT ARMS. The adjutant faces about and salutes. At the conclusion of "To the Color" or the National Anthem, the adjutant comes to order arms and faces about and directs BRING YOUR UNITS TO ORDER ARMS. After the last unit comes to order arms, the adjutant faces about. The commander and his staff assume PARADE REST, ATTENTION, PRESENT ARMS, and ORDER ARMS with the adjutant. The adjutant's salute is the signal for the band to play "To the Color" or the National Anthem.

c. Honors to the Nation.

(1) If retreat is not conducted, the adjutant (after the band has completed sound off) assumes the position of attention and directs BRING YOUR UNITS TO ATTENTION AND PRESENT ARMS.

(2) Unit commanders assume the position of attention, face about, and command Company, ATTENTION, Present, ARMS. They face about and salute.

(3) When all units are at present arms, the adjutant faces about and salutes. This is the signal for the band to play the National Anthem.

(4) The battalion commander and his staff execute Present, ARMS on his command on the first note of the music.

d. Presentation.

(1) Upon completion of the National Anthem, the battalion commander and his staff execute Order, ARMS on his command. The adjutant terminates his salute, faces about, and directs BRING YOUR UNITS TO ORDER ARMS.

(2) Unit commanders terminate their salute, face about, command Order, ARMS, and then face (back) to the front.

(3) When all units are at order arms, the adjutant faces about, salutes, and reports "Sir, The parade is formed."

e. Manual of Arms.

(1) After the adjutant has joined the staff, the battalion commander commands such movements in the manual of arms as he may desire.

(2) When desired, the commander may direct, rather than command, HAVE YOUR UNITS EXECUTE THE MANUAL OF ARMS. The unit commanders in sequence from right to left command Port, ARMS; Right shoulder, ARMS; Port, ARMS; Left shoulder, ARMS; Port, ARMS; Order, ARMS. When the unit on the right has completed all of the movements, the next unit then begins and so on until the last unit has completed the movements.

f. Report.

(1) When all units have completed the manual of arms, the battalion commander then directs RECEIVE THE REPORT.

(2) The adjutant returns to his position at the center of the command and commands REPORT. Unit commanders in succession, from right to left, salute and report " _____ Company, All present or accounted for." The adjutant returns each commander's salute.

(3) After receiving the report, the adjutant faces about, salutes, and reports "Sir, All present or accounted for."

g. Publishing of Orders.

(1) The battalion commander returns the salute and directs PUBLISH THE ORDERS.

(2) The adjutant faces about and directs ATTENTION TO ORDERS (he then reads the orders).

h. Officers Center March.

(1) After reading the orders, the adjutant directs BRING YOUR UNITS TO PARADE REST.

(2) Unit commanders face about and command Parade, REST. They then face about and come to parade rest.

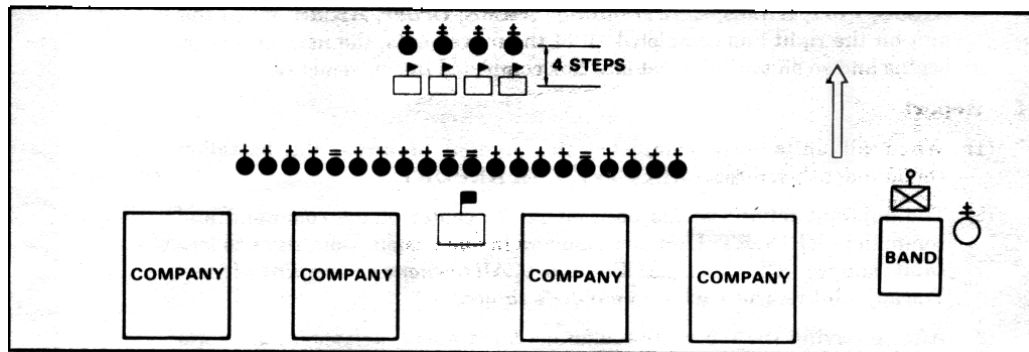

(3) When all units are at parade rest, the adjutant commands (loud enough for the band to hear) Officers (pause), Center (long pause), MARCH. He then faces about and takes his post with the staff.

(a) On the command Officers, all officers come to attention and guidon bearers come to carry guidon. First sergeants come to attention and take one step backward.

(b) On the command Center, when companies are in mass formation, the company commanders take six steps forward and guidon bearers take three steps forward and all face to the center. All other company officers face to the left and march by the most direct route around the left flank of the unit and halt on line with the units first rank. First sergeants will face to the right.

(c) At the command MARCH, the band plays marching music and continues to play until the officers have halted in front of the commander. Officers and guidon bearers close to the center, halt, and individually face to the front. Company commanders, when moving to the center, close on a line four steps in advance of the line of guidon bearers. The guidon bearers close on their own line, each taking a post to the rear of his company commander. All other officers close on the line of platoon leaders (Figure 10-12) First sergeants will march around the right flank of their unit and halt alongside the right guide.

(4) After the officers and guidon bearers have closed and faced to the front, the senior company commander commands Forward, MARCH. The center officer of the leading rank is the guide. The officers and guidon bearers are halted with the leading rank six steps from the battalion commander, and they salute. After the officers have moved, the first sergeant will move to the Company commander's position, halt and assume parade rest. The commands HALT and Present ARMS are given by the senior company commander. The battalion commander returns the salute. On the command Order, ARMS by the senior company commander, the officers execute order arms and the guidon bearers execute carry guidon.

(5) The battalion commander gives such instruction as he deems necessary and then commands Officers, Post (pause), MARCH.

(a) At the command Post, all officers and guidon bearers face about. First sergeants come to attention and turn about.

(b) At the command of execution MARCH the band begins to play and officers and guidon bearers step off. First sergeants will proceed by the most direct route around the right flank of the unit, halt one step to the rear of their original positions, face to the right and take one step forward.

(6) The senior commander commands Officers, HALT. He halts the leading rank in line, three steps from the line of companies. He then commands Post (pause), MARCH.

(a) At the command Post, the officers and guidon bearers face outward.

(b) At the command MARCH, the officers and guidon bearers step off and return to their posts and come to parade rest. The music ceases when the last officer has taken his post and comes to parade rest.

(7) During the execution of officers center and officers post, except when saluting, all guidon bearers remain at carry guidon.

i. Pass in Review.

(1) When all officers have returned to their posts and the band has stopped playing, the battalion commander directs BRING YOUR UNITS TO ATTENTION.

(2) Unit commanders assume the position of attention, face about, and command Company, ATTENTION. Then they face about.

(3) When all units are at attention, the battalion commander directs PASS IN REVIEW.

(4) The battalion passes in review in the same manner as prescribed for a review except the units render honors when six steps to the left of the commander of troops and staff, and terminate honors when the unit is six steps to the right of the commander of troops and staff. The commander of troops and staff then assume the role of the reviewing party at their location on the field.

j. Conclusion.

(1) When the last element of troops has passed the reviewing stand and executed ready front, the band ceases playing and goes immediately into an eight-bar drum cadence. On the first beat following drum cadence, the band begins playing (in place) the appropriate music. At the appropriate time, the drum major has the band march forward and execute a right turn onto the reviewing line while continuing to play until the completion of the chorus.

(2) The completion of the appropriate music terminates the ceremony.

10-11. Ceremonial Regimental Parade

a. The regiment ordinarily is formed in line with battalions in mass formations. The parade is the same as the ceremonial battalion parade with the following exceptions:

(1) The regimental commander is substituted for battalion commander, and regiment for battalion, in the description.

(2) In moving across the front of the regiment, the band passes in front of the line of battalion commanders during the sound off.

b. The battalions execute present arms, order arms, parade rest, and come to attention on the command of execution of their respective commanders. The battalion commanders instead of company commanders make reports.

c. At the command of Center, of Officers Center, MARCH, company commanders and guidon bearers move as described in paragraph 10-10 h(3)(b) above. Second and third battalion platoon leaders take three steps forward and face to the center, first and fourth battalion platoon leaders take one step forward and face to the center. All other company officer and the first sergeant move as described in paragraph 10-10 h(3)(b) above.

d.. At the command of execution MARCH, of Officers, Center, MARCH, the battalion commanders, their staffs, and Colors close on the line of battalion commanders and staffs. The company commanders, guidon bearers, and company officers close as previously described in h(3)c above, except that second and third battalion officers will meet at the center and individually face to the front, and first and fourth battalion officers will form a line three steps behind the second and third battalion officers(Figure 10-13). First Sergeants will also move as previously described above. The sergeant major remains in place and assumes command of the battalion.

e. The officers, guidon bearers, and Colors having closed and faced to the front, the senior battalion commander commands Forward, MARCH. The center officer of the leading rank is the guide. On the command of the senior battalion commander, the officers, guidon bearers, and Colors are halted with the leading ranks six steps from the regimental commander. They salute the regimental commander; he returns the salute. The commands Present, ARMS and Order, ARMS are given by the senior battalion commander.

f. The regimental commander commands Officers, Post (pause), MARCH. On the command Post, the Colors execute reverse march. All others execute about face. On the command of execution MARCH, the officers, Colors, and guidon bearers march forward. The senior battalion commander commands Officers, HALT so that the rank of battalion commanders is on line with its original position. The senior battalion commander then commands Post (pause), MARCH. On the command Post, the battalion commanders and staffs face outward, the battalion Color guard executes wheeling movements, and on the command of execution MARCH the color guard marches back to its original position. The company commanders, guidon bearers, and other officers face to the right or half left and move back to their original positions.

10-12. Street Parades

a. For street parades, troops are formed and marched in the most convenient manner. Street parades may include military vehicles. Towed or transported weapons add to the drama of a street parade. Cargo vehicles are included only when it is desired to increase the size of the display.

b. Practical formations for street parades are:

(1) Columns of threes and fours.

(2) Two or more columns of threes and fours abreast.

(3) Mass formation.

c. The vehicles move in a single column or column of twos, threes, or fours abreast, as the width of the street permits.

d. In order to keep military units in the same cadence, units should not march between two bands.
