

Regimental Reward Point Dollars (RPDs)

Purpose:

Regimental Reward Point Dollars (RPDs) are a reward incentive to prompt the members of Regimental Staff to perform exceptional work, and go above and beyond the standard. Only the Regimental XO, RCSM, and R1SG have the ability to reward RPDs.

General:

Each RPD equals an amount of Merits written on the RPD. RPDs act very similarly to a Merit I.O.U. The RPD can only be redeemed for merits or other benefits by the member of Regimental Staff who originally received the RPD. Cadets not a member of Regimental Staff cannot redeem or receive RPDs. RPDs can not be traded or rewarded for goods or services to other members of Regimental Staff, without approval. Only the RXO, RCSM, and R1SG have the ability to reward RPDs. A member of Regimental Staff can redeem a RPDs at any time. Counterfeiting RPDs is a punishable offense.

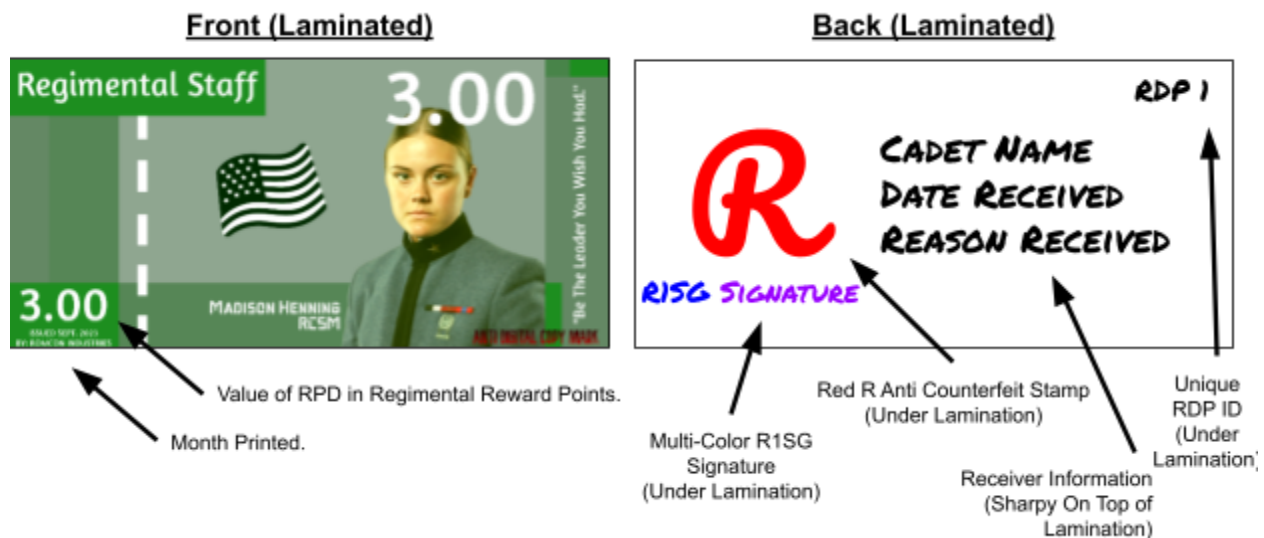

How To Earn RPDs:

Weekly MRIs, outstanding uniforms, and exceptional performances of duty are some of the possible ways to earn RPDs. Members of Regimental Staff will not receive RPDs during SMIs for outstanding room or uniform, and would just be pulled for merits immediately. RPDs DO NOT REPLACE MERITS. A member of Regimental Staff can request to be pulled for merits immediately instead of receiving an RPDs from the RXO, RCSM, or R1SG.

RPDs Values:

RCO RPD = 5 Regimental Reward Points
DCO RPD = 4 Regimental Reward Points
RXO RPD = 4 Regimental Reward Points
RCSM RPD = 3 Regimental Reward Points
R1SG RPD = 3 Regimental Reward Points
